Pet of the Week: Mick

Animal ID#: A478520

Mick is a large black and white, short hair domestic cat, and he is ready to go home with you today. He has been neutered and de-clawed by his previous owner. His large pale green eyes are shown off by the sleek black fur on his face, which also make his long white whiskers stand out. Mick is 3-years-old and has out grown his kitten-like tendencies; he wants to relax. He is not interested in other cats or playing franticly around the house, he would much rather sit on the couch with you and be scratched behind the ear or on the face. He has a deep meow that he uses to voice his opinion and let you know when he wants your attention.

Pets can offer so much to their owners just as a loving owner can offer tons to their pets. Adopting a shelter animal can save a life so please visit Mick to see if he is the pet you have been looking for.

Jones Say "I Do" ... Again

On August 23, 2008, Cindy Sue and Greg Jones renewed the marriage vows they first said in a Carmichael backyard in 1988. They met at a Murder Mystery Party in 1987. Greg's sister had been trying to set them up, but did not manage to do so until the party. Greg was a dashing Duke, dressed in Marine Corps dress Uniform (his own) and a full beard. Cindy Sue played the spoiled, willful daughter of a rich perfumer, wearing a fancy cocktail dress. It did not take long for them to find each other at the party and they were both smitten. After their wedding, not being able to afford a honeymoon, they took a few days to go to the State Fair, Great America and to spend the night in Santa Cruz. Opening day of the California State Fair has become a 20 year tradition with this couple.

Their Vow Renewal was at the Orangevale Grange Hall and had a Luau Theme. Cindy Sue's Father, Scott Thornton walked her down the aisle where Greg and their children, Schwan Wallace and Sarah Shaban and their grandchildren, Brooke and Tyler Wallace were waiting with Cindy Sue and Greg's beloved dog, Simba.

A wonderful party broke out after the vows were completed. O'Connor's Santa Maria Grill provided a roasted pig. Friends and family brought appetizers, side dishes and desserts. The band Remedy played for dancing and listening enjoyment. Cindy Sue and Greg are well-known in Orangevale for their commitment to the community and their dedication to helping others. We wish them the best of luck for all years to come.

that he would be able to maintain his grades, but Conan was soon (the first week) bored by study hall and asked to be transferred to a language. He was placed in a second year course in Spanish, a language he had not studied before and is doing very well as a Spanish student. Conan's English is excellent as he has studied English for 8 years as a student in China. Conan has been well-accepted at the school, becoming involved in activities as well as academics. The Smiths took him to see the big trees, and to an outdoor play, "The Importance of Being Ernest", by Oscar Wilde. Conan explained that in China, they do not have plays such as this; they do have Opera which is different than ours, so the play was very interesting to him. The Smiths and Conan plan on spending Thanksgiving with the extended Smith family and hope to spend Christmas in Solvang. They are also planning a trip to the Napa Valley and to show Conan the coastal redwoods as well as the museums and capitol in Sacramento. The Smiths hope to show Conan how much California history has been impacted by Chinese immigrants.

Conan is an only child whose mother is an Accountant and whose Father is an Engineer who studies earthquakes. Conan would like to study to become a Doctor; however, his real dream is to be an Ambassador. Conan chose to study in the United States because he is impressed with our Democracy, our regard for Human Rights, and our liberties.
